By arrangement with MusicScope and Stage Musicals Ltd of New York.
An amateur production.

Director's Thoughts

In directing a production of 'Oliver!' one is very aware not only of the film of the musical but also the films made of Dickens' story of 'Oliver Twist'. Having been at school with the first Oliver and living in the same town as the second, I was delighted to find the latest Roman Polanski version a timely inspiration! But I've just noticed 'The perfect family DVD' attached to its box, which revives our dilemma of how far should this musical production be just a happy 'family' show.

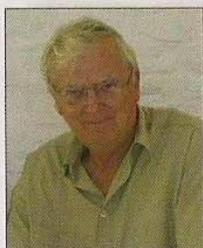

We have tried to resolve this dilemma by emphasising the contrasts of the story, its lights and shades, the lively welcome Oliver receives in London with 'Consider Yourself' set against the irony and violence of the later 'Fine Life' quartet. It was interesting to find Fagin's light-hearted play-acting in 'Pick a Pocket' reflected in the monochrome starkness of David Lean's classic. Ensuring that the levity of Ron Moody is merged with the menace of Alec Guinness has been an absorbing challenge for our own talented 'Jew'!

Of course one of the additional pleasures of Players' amateur productions is the scale of our choruses. We decided early on not to reject anyone who came to our 'community' auditions, and 'Oliver!' gives a wide range of opportunities for chorus acting and singing, in the Workhouse for the youngest, in Fagin's Gang for older youngsters, and in the London crowd for all ages to come together in numerous mass movements! By a stroke of pure serendipity we are fortunate that Helen Lewis has rejoined us as choreographer, and her contribution has added a wonderful extra dimension to the large chorus numbers.

It has been a delight to be able to cast so many familiar and talented characters from past productions in this show, 'John The Baptist' as 'Sowerberry', 'Haig' as 'Bumble', 'Jesus' as 'Fagin', 'Becket' as 'Brownlow'! But it is the new and younger members of the cast - some of them with ages you wouldn't believe - who are likely to steal the show. We are so grateful for all the support we have had, particularly from sympathetic parents who have helped to maintain a longer than usual rehearsal schedule.

On behalf of Cynthia and all the production team we wish you all a wonderful evening, and thank you for your support for the two important charities that we - unusually - are identifying ahead of the performance.

Acknowledgments

We have had so much help and goodwill from the community with this production for which we are all extremely grateful. Once again The Vine, Charlton Pharmacy and Secondwind have been the local outlets for ticket sales, and once again we have been able to rely on Richard Major's sound and lighting expertise, equipment and storage facilities.

We greatly appreciate the discount given for the lighting lift from Kestral Access and the support given to our charities by all those advertising in this programme.

We have had all sorts of kind offers of props, furniture etc., and are particularly grateful for the loan of a genuine coffin by WS Trenhaile, the Bath Road Undertakers, and Norman's for loan of blankets. A special 'thank you' to Rob Dundas for the construction of the tables, and to Barry Curl for another fine set of costume photographs of the cast. Our publicity materials - and indeed this souvenir programme - have reached new 'heights' through the artistry and hard work of Andrew Laver of 80-20 Design and the generous printing facilities of the Chelsea Building Society.

And finally our appreciation goes to all those responsible for church and school halls who have patiently met our rehearsal needs over the months, and especially to Balcarras School not only for the use of their hall for the production itself but also for its use over a longer period of rehearsals than usual.

The Charities

*The Gloucestershire Prostate Cancer
(Brachytherapy Unit) Trust*

May I thank Charlton Kings Community Players for their first class production of 'OLIVER!' and your support for my two chosen charities during my year as Mayor of Cheltenham.

The charities which will benefit are:

The Gloucestershire Prostate Cancer (Brachytherapy Unit) Trust which I founded in July 2001. Since the establishment of a unit in Cheltenham General Hospital some 18 months later, over 50 men's lives have been saved.

The Parkinson's Disease Society I became aware of the problems associated with Parkinson's disease when a well-known Cheltenham business colleague became a victim of this progressive illness, for which there is no cure. Your support this evening will contribute to funding a respite care facility for sufferers in Cheltenham.

Have a wonderful evening.

Honorary Alderman

Charlton Kings Community Players

Following two ad hoc community productions in the '80s, the Community Players were set up formally in 1992 'to encourage faith, fun and fellowship through ecumenical drama and musical activities for all ages'.

Our major productions have included 'Oh What A Lovely War', 'An Inspector Calls', 'The Sound of Music', 'Les Miserables' (under 19s) and 'Murder in the Cathedral'.

Our activities have also included entertainment for Christmas and old people's homes in the village, dramatic contributions to open-air ecumenical services, drama workshops and fund-raising cabarets.

Our constitution states: 'Membership of the group shall be from the churches, residents or those with strong connections with Charlton Kings' so our productions are genuinely community drama.

In the last thirteen years we have raised over £13,000 for local charities and the annual Alison Luna Bursary for Performing Arts.
